From Academy Award-nominated director Richard E. Robbins comes GIRLRISING - an innovative new feature film about the power of education to change a girl – and the world. Meryl Streep, Anne Hathaway, Liam Neeson, Cate Blanchette, Selena Gomez contribute voice performances to the film.

Like the 66 million girls around the world who dream of going to school, what the girls want most is to be students: to learn. And now, by sharing their personal journeys, they have become teachers. Watch GIRLRISING, and you will see: One girl with courage is a revolution.
